

Matters Involving Metropolitan

In re Matter of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, South Coast Air Quality Management District, Application for Interim Variance

On July 1, 2022, Metropolitan filed a petition with South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) for a variance from the annual 200 hour limit on operations in its permit to operate an emergency standby propane generator at its Pleasant Peak telecommunication tower. The SCAQMD thresholds seek to limit criteria pollutant emissions (i.e., nitrogen oxides, carbon monoxide, and volatile organic compounds) by restricting the number of hours generators run. The telecommunication tower is in a remote area of Orange County and relies on the emergency generator, if there are power outages on Southern California Edison's (Edison) system. The tower is necessary for operational communications for Metropolitan's water delivery system. Other public agencies, including Riverside County, San Bernardino County, and the Water Emergency Response Organization of Orange County, also rely on the emergency generator to provide back-up power for their telecommunications systems housed at this location. Thus, uninterrupted operation of the tower is necessary to support several essential public services.

The need for this variance is due solely to unanticipated Edison power outages. Several recent Edison outages for repairs to its system required Metropolitan to operate the generator over 170 hours as of July 1, 2022, putting it at risk of exceeding the 200-hour limit before year end.

SCAQMD's hearing board granted an immediate emergency waiver and a follow-up hearing was held on July 26. As SCAQMD was in agreement with the petition, the item was heard on the consent calendar and the board found good cause to grant the variance. A final hearing for a regular variance that will provide coverage to the end of the year will be held on August 31.

Metropolitan staff is handling this matter and will continue to participate in this case to protect Metropolitan's operational needs.

Sierra Club v. Cal. Dept. of Water Resources (consolidated with Department of Water Resources v. All Persons Interested, etc.) (Sacramento County Superior Court)

On August 5, 2022, the judge in the Delta Conveyance Project revenue bond validation cases held a case management conference to establish a briefing and hearing schedule for the next stage of litigation before setting a trial date and briefing schedule later this year. The court ordered that any motions for summary judgment or summary adjudication and any motion for new trial be filed by August 15, 2022, extended to August 25 due to a Covid issue, with a hearing date set for November 18, 2022. The court also set the next case management conference for December 9, 2022 to establish a trial date and briefing schedule, if it denies the opponents' motions for summary judgment and new trial.

As previously reported, on August 6, 2022, the Department of Water Resources (DWR) adopted a set of resolutions authorizing issuance of revenue bonds to finance both the design, environmental review and planning costs, as well as costs to construct a new Delta conveyance facility. The same day, it filed a validation action seeking a judicial declaration that it has the authority to adopt the bond resolutions. Dozens of parties filed answers raising an array of affirmative defenses opposing DWR's validation case; five public water agencies, including Metropolitan, filed answers supporting DWR's case.

On October 27, 2020, Sierra Club, Center for Biological Diversity, Planning and Conservation League, Restore the Delta and Friends of Stone Lakes National Wildlife Refuge filed litigation challenging DWR's adoption of the bond resolutions under the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), alleging that DWR could not adopt the bond resolutions until it completed CEQA review of the Delta Conveyance Project. Multiple parties also raised CEQA as an affirmative defense in DWR's validation case.

The cases were consolidated, and last fall, after a set of cross-motions for summary judgment on CEQA, the trial court ruled in DWR's favor, meaning Sierra Club's CEQA claims and all CEQA affirmative defenses in the validation action failed based on the law as applied to the undisputed material facts.

Because the trial court judge was appointed to the Court of Appeal for the Third Appellate District, the cases were delayed until the Honorable Judge Mennemeier was assigned. In the next round of dispositive motions, Sierra Club has indicated it will move for a new trial on its CEQA claim, and it and other answering opponents stated they intend to move for summary judgment on alleged violations of the Delta Reform Act and the public trust doctrine, and possibly others.

Metropolitan staff is handling this matter with the assistance of outside counsel.

Matters Impacting Metropolitan

Department of Interior v. Navajo Nation*, (U.S. Supreme Court Case No. 22-51); State of Arizona v. Navajo Nation (U.S. Supreme Court, Case No. 21-1484, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, Case No. 19-17088, D.C. No. 3:03-cv-00507-PCT-GMS)

On July 15, 2022, U.S. Department of Interior (DOI) filed a separate petition with the U.S. Supreme Court seeking review of the question whether the federal government owes the Navajo Nation an affirmative, judicially enforceable fiduciary duty to assess and address the Navajo Nation's need for water. DOI argues it does not, as there is no specific treaty, statute, or regulatory provision creating a duty as required by existing Ninth Circuit and Supreme Court precedent. DOI argues that because the Ninth Circuit's decision in this matter conflicts with existing authority, it warrants Supreme Court review.

DOI also concurrently filed a response to the Intervenor's petition arguing that it should be held pending disposition of its separate petition on the fiduciary duty issue. DOI argued that it does not believe it is necessary to rule on the jurisdictional issue of whether the Ninth Circuit's opinion infringes on the exclusive jurisdiction of the Supreme Court over water rights on the mainstem of the Colorado River retained in Arizona v. California at this time.

Intervenor's include the States of Arizona, Nevada, and Colorado, along with Metropolitan, Coachella Valley Water District, Imperial Irrigation District, Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, Salt River Project Agricultural Improvement and Power District, Central Arizona Water Conservation District, Colorado River Commission of Nevada, and Southern Nevada Water Authority.

Having initially waived its right to respond, Navajo Nation immediately requested relief to file a response to Intervenor's petition and to extend its date to respond to DOI's new petition. The parties did not object and agreed that responses by all parties to DOI's petition and Navajo Nation's response to Intervenor's petition are due September 23, 2022. Replies, if any, are due within 14 days of the responses.

Intervenor's intend to file a response to DOI's petition and a reply to the Navajo Nation's response to its petition. The parties expect the matter to be fully briefed in October, when the Supreme Court may consider whether to grant review. If review is granted, briefs are due 45 days thereafter.

Metropolitan will continue to participate in this case to protect its Colorado River water interests. (See General Counsel's May 2022 Monthly Report.)

EEOC Updates Employer COVID-19 Pandemic Guidance

On July 12, 2022, the federal EEOC updated its guidance to employers regarding the country's ongoing response to COVID-19. Under the new rules, employers can only test employees at the workplace for COVID-19 for job and business related reasons. The EEOC also now prohibits employers from requiring employees to undergo antibody testing prior to re-entering the workplace. Employers are authorized, however, to test new job applicants, but only if everyone at the worksite is required to undergo testing.

The new guidance makes clear that employer obligations continue to change as the pandemic progresses.

Other Matters

Finance

On July 7, 2022, Metropolitan issued $279,570,000 of Water Revenue Refunding Bonds, 2022 Series A (Bonds). The Bonds were issued to refund portions of three separate series of bonds originally issued in 2012 and realize debt service savings. Total present value debt service savings for Metropolitan was $40 million. The Bonds also prepaid $35,645,000 of outstanding Wells Fargo Short-Term Revolving Notes issued on June 29, 2022.

During a 4-month process, Legal Department staff attorneys worked with Finance, Engineering and Water Resources staff to prepare the official statement used to market the Bonds and assisted outside bond and disclosure counsel with the drafting and negotiation of several contracts and closing certificates.

On July 27, 2022, Metropolitan concurrently issued (i) $253,365,000 of Water Revenue Refunding Bonds, 2022 Series B; and (ii) $282,275,000 of Special Variable Rate Water Revenue Refunding Bonds, 2022 Series C (collectively, the Bonds). The related series of Bonds were issued to refund portions of six separate series of bonds originally issued in 2000, 2016, and 2018 and realize debt service savings. Total present value debt service savings for Metropolitan was $24.5 million.

During a several-month process, Legal Department staff attorneys worked with Finance, Engineering and Water Resources staff to prepare the official statements used to market the Bonds and assisted outside bond and disclosure counsel with the drafting and negotiation of several contracts and closing certificates, including the credit facilities supporting the variable rate bonds.
